Case - Timothy N. Pfeiffer,
Subject - Homicide, New Brunswick, N.J.
Operative - 312.

DEM / Gibson

November 13, 1922. Continuing on the above matter, Operative reported at the Plant of the International Motor Co., New Brunswick, N.J., at 6.30 a.m.

Upon arrival at the plant Operative was given Pass Check 2, and 78059 was assigned to work in the machine repair department. The Foreman of the machine repair department put Operative to work along with Fred Rinehart, a brother of Mrs. Mills.

While working with Fred Rinehart, Operative learned that he is the owner of a Ford Sedan car, and that he was out riding in the car the most part of last Sunday.

During the day Fred Rinehart advised Operative that he was Mrs. Mills' brother, and while talking to Operative along those lines, remarked, that Mrs. Hall did not do it, as she was too much of a lady to do anything like that. Mr. Rinehart advised Operative that he did not bother much with the case, and that he was never even up to the place where the bodies were found. He further remarked to Operative, "Well, my sister was a good girl, and nobody can say any different." Upon being questioned as to who might have done the job, Mr. Rinehart replied, "I don't think they will ever find out." Mr. Rinehart told Operative that he did not believe Mrs. Gibson's story, and that she was just out for the money. Fred Rinehart informed Operative that the reporters have been after him, and that he would not tell them anything, saying, "They have been giving everybody some money, why don't they come to me and give me some money, I can use it." Fred Rinehart said that his brother Charles at one time worked on the cars, but that he now is employed by the Public Service Corp. building bridges.

Operative learned that Mr. Rinehart is married and lives in the suburbs of New Brunswick, and that he has three daughters. Furthermore, that Mrs. Fred Rinehart works as an operator on coats for the New Brunswick Co.
